“ . . . Yesterday is already a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision;
But today, well lived, makes every yesterday
A dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!
Such is the salutation of the

DEDICATION

The Class of 1984 chose to dedicate its yearbook to the late George Smith. As Chief of the Millis Police Department for 22 years, he was a presence throughout most of our school years.

A native of Millis and a member of the Millis High School Class of 1955, Chief Smith was no stranger to the happenings in Millis. With the admiration, not only from his peers, but also from an entire town, Chief Smith will not be forgotten. Our class is proud to have known such a respected man.

Now, as you embark upon a new life, let the preparation received in high school be the stepping stone to challenging adventures that will fill your life with warmth, happiness and joy.

My best wishes are extended to each of you for success in those "new and unexpected happenings."

Mrs. Debra Landers

To The Class of 1984:

I can't believe that four years have passed since you entered Millis High School. The only class to make the transition from Millis Junior-Senior High School to Millis Middle School and back to High School, you have certainly experienced an era of transition. In addition, you have recorded a first as you were the first class to get stuck with the Principal for a class advisor during your freshman year and one of the first classes to experience the negative aspects of "proposition 2½".

Despite turmoil and change in your educational lives, you have adjusted well and rank among the best and most spirited classes to pass through Millis High School. I sincerely hope that the changes which you've experienced have served to strengthen your adaptability to changing times, and this flexibility will carry over into future situations, making you the better for it.

On behalf of the staff and myself, I extend our congratulations to each and every one of you and sincerely wish you much happiness and success in your future endeavors. We hope that our efforts have produced the results you hoped for and your way in life will be better off for our combined efforts.

Sincerely,
Paul A. Brunelle

"Wake up, Erin!"

"Hi, mom."

"Look, we can count to 'one'!"

"Watch out, I'm gonna be sick!"

"I'm so embarrassed."

"Inseperable Buddies"

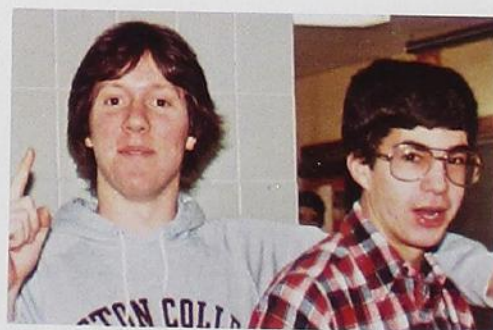

"Not now, I'm studying!"

"Do you think it's too much?"

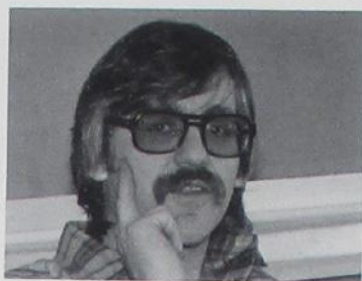

"Just a few close friends."

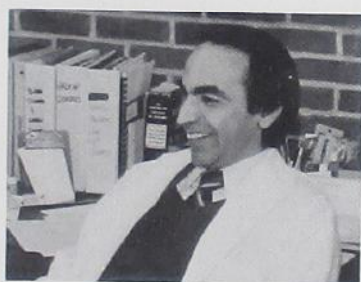

"I'm still on number 'one'."

VALEDICTORIAN

Debbi Sullivan

Reverend Clergy, Members of the School Committee, Mr. Vellante, Mr. Brunelle, Faculty, family, and friends. It is my honor and privilege to welcome you to share in this memorable event.

In this age we are often encouraged to be alike in dress, speech, taste, morality, and action. After graduation we are expected to go on to further our education in college, earn a degree, pursue a career, or begin immediately in an occupation. Sometimes we can become trapped in the ensnaring hopes of parents and peers, and we are pressed to fulfill their dreams instead of our own. This compulsion to please others may limit the development of our own personalities and can stifle our creativity.

In our fight to retain our own individuality, let us not compel others to conform to our beliefs. In the world today and yesterday, leaders of nations have prohibited athletes from competing for glory in the Olympic games.

This base, political maneuver makes these men and women pawns in the struggle for ideological domination. It is up to us, the coming generation, to strive together to assure that the freedom of choice is available to all.

Take courage to propagate your own destiny. If you encounter obstacles, meet them head on. Refuse to let them end your search for realization of your goals. As Cicero once said, "Excellence cannot be utterly attained, but with diligence and devotion it can be approached. One must never be content with mediocrity, for that is complacency of low minds. Strive always."

In our high school years, we have learned the skills needed to make us functioning members of society. Use these skills to shape a meaningful life. Do not stand in the shadows of former leaders, but step into the light of a new day. "Do not follow where the path may lead. Go, instead, where there is no path, and leave a trail."

Thank you.

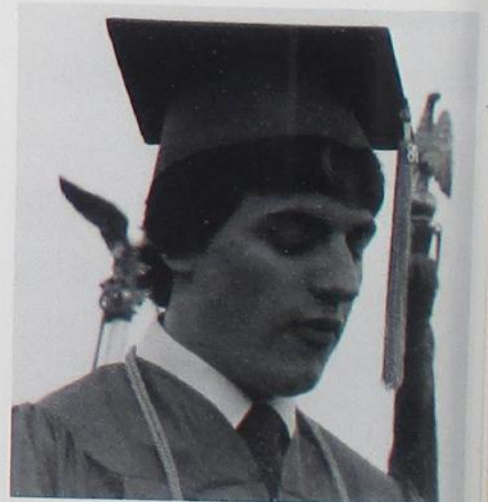

SALUTATORIAN

Reverend Clergy, Members of the School Committee, Mr. Vellante, Mr. Brunelle, Faculty, Parents and Friends.

Although education consists primarily of learning facts and concepts, I have found that those whom I have met offered a very important education in a different sense. In the past years I have learned that every individual plays an important role in education. I have met students who have shown me my true potential and I have met teachers who have introduced powerful ideas that have changed the way I think and behave. There is a lesson to be learned from each person, no matter how intelligent or ignorant she or he at first seems. In every individual there is a wealth of philosophies, values, and ideas that cannot only help us to understand others better, but also to help us to understand ourselves as well. To learn these important ideas one must be willing to allow himself or herself to be open to new or different values. In the words of Stephens, "We often grow more by bending with the wind than by standing in rigid defiance."

One who rejects somebody because of race, sex, religion, or handicap is often closing off a person who may be a powerful inspiration. To deny this possibility due to an unfounded bias is a sad mistake. To get the most from other people, you must overlook their minor faults in order to receive the enormous benefits they have to offer.

Tonight I encourage my fellow graduates and all here to try to dismiss any prejudices you may have and become willing to accept the valuable lessons of those you meet. Become open to new ideas. Do not neglect your responsibilities to yourself and others, and believe in what you do. Strive for your dreams, and work hard to achieve your goals, but enjoy yourself as you go. Enjoy life always, because every day is a gift, and as a former teacher often said, "to refuse a gift is a foolish act." We are so fortunate to live in a country where we can freely express ourselves. Take advantage of this freedom and consider the value of the people who surround you. If you do this, I believe you will realize the very special qualities of yourself and others. To recognize the value of yourself and the value of life is perhaps the most valuable lesson one can possibly learn.

Joe Nobrega

Reverend Clergy, Members of the School Committee, Mr. Vellante, Mr. Brunelle, Faculty, Parents and Friends.

A whole school year has gone by and it is hard to believe. It just seems like yesterday that I left Norway and came to the United States. I wondered about many things. Would the kids at school be friendly? Would I get along with my new parents in my new home? Now I can honestly say that everything is much nicer and the people are friendlier than I dared to hope. In the beginning my English was not that good, but now I think I am better because now I have learned all the "awesome" "slang words" you use here.

First of all I want to thank Chrissie and Eddie very much for being such great parents to me during this year. I have had a lot of fun with them, and they have spoiled me really much, but I like that. I was very nervous at the beginning of the school year because everything was new, but I got help from a nice girl. I want to thank Karen Diggins very much for helping me here the first days. She introduced me to students and teachers and helped me learn my way around school.

I have made many good friends here in Millis, but I have two really good friends here. One is Donna Barrett and I am glad I got to know her. The other is Maura Keaney, I want to thank her very much for being my best friend. We had a lot of fun together, and I will always remember that. I also want to thank the whole family for treating me like a third daughter.

Some of the special things that I have done, which I always will remember, are the trip to Florida, that was really an experience, especially meeting those American cockroaches, and prom night. It was fun to dress up and ride in a limosine, since we don't have either in Norway.

I enjoyed all my classes, especially those of Mr. Dooling and Mr. Hoffman, but I think that my most favorite class was art with Mrs. Baima. We had a lot of fun together.

I want to thank all the teachers in the school and everybody in town who have been so nice to me. I am probably the first Norwegian girl to have 3 surprise birthday parties, to get married to Scott Belyea, and to have an egg baby.

I am glad I came to Millis because it would not have been the same if I stayed anywhere else.

In closing I just want you all to know that while I am physically leaving you behind in Millis, you will always be in my heart and in my memories.

GOODBYE EVERYBODY, I LOVE YOU ALL!!!!

Berit Skogen

CLASS HISTORY

The year was 1971. The Vietnam War was the focal point of our international affairs. Richard Nixon was the president, John Denver was the hit musical sensation, Led Zeppelin released Led Zeppelin IV . . . the greatest rock album of all time, the walter, the chicken and mashed potato were the dance crazes and flower children proclaiming love and peace were everywhere. Dr. George C. Roy was the Superintendent of Schools and Raymond Gehling was the Chairman of the School Committee. It was in September of this year, that the class of '84' began its thirteen year long journey through Millis Public School System. We all have acquired many memories in the past years. Some were good and some were bad, but the good memories definitely outweighed the bad memories. It is these memories that we would like to share with you now.

It all started in kindergarten, and depending on which school you were in, you either had Mr. Collins or Mr. Lanthier as a principal. Every class has their share of those people who never quite make it to the bathroom and this class is no exception. It was SCOTT BELYEA, this time, who was on his way to the little boys' room, when unfortunately he only made it as far as DIANE STEEVES' desk. Also, at this time of our lives, a certain SCOTT WOLPERT or more commonly known as Wally, began to ask the BIG questions. And to this day he still annoys Mrs. Russ with the, "I have one question."

In first grade everyone was in the Clyde Brown School with Mr. Lanthier as our principal. Many of us can recall being sent to "the BENCH" especially MIKE COYLE. Also in first grade, SELENE GOES and TERESA MACDONALD became best friends. Amazingly their friendship is still in existence to this very day.

In second grade DENISE BOUCHER had such a crush on BRUCE WORKS, that when no one was looking she pushed him against the blackboard and gave him a big kiss. Poor Bruce was too shocked to react so he just stood there. Also, during recess some of the girls used to enjoy playing "girls' germs" where MIKE BENNETT and GLENN IVORY were the prime targets. Also, in this year we began to learn of ERIC HAGAN's mischievous ways. He and RON MCKENNEY recorded the bell on a tape recorder and played it ten minutes before their class was supposed to end. You wise guys!!!! We also remember the unfortunate accident that GREG PICKLESIMER had at the playground that year. The poor kid's nose will never be the same.

In the third grade we became a part of the Memorial School Annex with Mr. Begley as our principal. In this year we got a glimpse of CHERYL PAYNE's cheerleading abilities when she performed a gymnastic routine for Mrs. Clancy's class. Cheryl also got a glimpse of LYDIA JOYCE and SAM CLAIR's mean and cruel side, especially the time when they decided to give Cheryl a karate chop and ended up giving the poor girl a dislocated knee. Luckily, MARYLOU DWYER "fixed" everything. To get back at the two meanies she said that she would personally kill Lydia and Sam. But, this argument did pass and they all became friends once again . . .

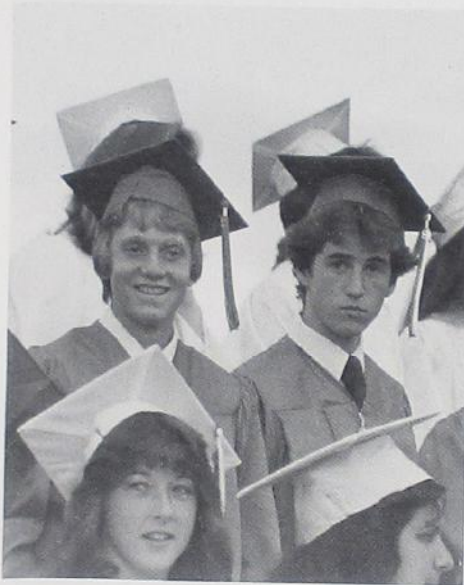

The fourth grade brought to our attention those who were musically talented. Though 90% of the class began to play an instrument, most of us didn't make it too far up the musical ladder . . . Right Lance, Benny, and Bells???? In this year STEPHANIE PICKLESIMER became notorious for throwing out her retainer in the lunchroom's trash. No one can ever forget those words, "But I know it must be in here somewhere . . ."

5th grade brought us back to the Memorial School once again with a new principal, Dr. Lawrence Aronstien. Each morning before school, we had our question of the day from Dr. A. It was EILEEN MURPHY who answered 9 out of the 13 questions for Mrs. Carvallo's class so they could go on the field trip to Lincoln Park. I do believe that Emily MCCANN's stomach remembers that fun filled day at Lincoln Park. Especially in the arcade after riding the "Round-up" for the last time. It was in this year that we tried to drive Mr. Lynch crazy by simultaneously dropping our pencils and books to the floor on the hour and every hour. Also, ALEX KUBACKI set a school record for eating 17 apples during one lunch period, but unfortunately he was seen later running to the nurse's station with his hand on his stomach.

6th grade brought on our "Group Guidance" sessions with Dr. A. During one of these "marvelous" sessions, MICHAEL TRAVERS left an unforgettable odor which amused his classmates immensely. One day Mrs. Martin's class was working with clay, but naturally most of it ended up on the ceiling and the substitute teacher left the room crying hysterically. In this year was our famed 6th grade play, The Wonderful Tang, starring STEVEN SMITH and ERIN REILLY. But, it was our field trip to Elbanobscot that was the highlight of this particular year. Many different incidents happened on this trip. The first was when KIM FRESE was carried out of her bedroom by Dr. A to a car where she was transported to the hospital. And to this day we still don't know what really happened. How could anyone forget when MAURA KEANEY's Dressie Bessie was kidnapped? Luckily it was returned for a small ransom for Maura couldn't function properly without it. Then there was the kiss scene between REBECCA MUSHNICK and her pillow who was supposed to be BRUCE WORKS.

7th grade brought us finally to the Junior High School where we were allowed to carefully mingle with the big and older high school students. This was the year that Rebecca decided not to be a part of society any longer. She enjoyed sitting in Mr. Richard's science class doing nothing which became her favorite pastime for the next 5 years. We had a blast being a high school student, then came the extremely big let down.

In the 8th grade we took a huge step back to the immature Middle School with Dr. A as our principal once again. Believe me our class did not like this idea at all!!!! It was in this year that we had many, many, many, many, many, many riots which drove the art teacher, Miss Buke to actually leave. Of course there was the day, Black Friday, when Dr. A refused to serve lunch because of the pending food fight. Until Kim Kubacki spoke her mind, eventually we were allowed to have our lunch. For those who were interested there was always Bubble Time on Fridays where we could participate in different groups. We still had our group guidance meetings, but now Dr. A had his touch sessions. "Hey Eileen, is this a positive or negative touch?", "Oh knock it off Sam . . ." Also in 8th grade, we had a huge going away party for CINDI STATLER who was going to move. The funny part is that she came back to Millis a couple of weeks later. Maybe she was looking for another party or something. 8th grade also brought about the huge fights at the top of the hill next to the bandstand. Remember those old words? "Meet me after school at the top of the hill!" Tough people, weren't we??? One day in the end of the eighth grade in Algebra class, something Mrs. Gately was teaching finally sunk into PAT TRAVERS' head. "I get it", he yelled, "Two is T, and T is Two, I actually learned something this year." At this he jumped on his desk and started singing, "Two is T and T is Two". Soon the whole class was on their desks singing and dancing. At the close of our 8th grade year, we entered our freshman year with a black cloud hanging low over our heads. It seemed that some of the teachers, the principal and others were dreading the fact that our class was entering the high school. We had apparently picked up a bad reputation in our one year in the Middle School.

Well anyways, in our freshman year MIKE TRAVERS took over and became our very successful class president. BILL MANCINI entered the class, but unfortunately his good looks couldn't do much for the freshman football team that went 0-8 that year, while the varsity team went on to become the division 4 champs, and to win the superbowl. Also that year, the last Millis football team which had KEVIN HENDERSON, MARK COUSLAND, MIKE VANTHIEL and others on it, were cheered on by the very last freshman cheerleading squad. The squad consisted of KATHY VANROEKEL, LISA BURKE, NORANN NOON, JULIE SINATRA, JOANNE STARK and others. CHRIS SOUZA got his nickname in the 9th grade. With the help of an older band member, Chris was taught how to hit a pebble with his trumpet, hence the name Reggie. During a basketball game DEBBIE MCCOLL was about to throw the ball inbounds when she heard everyone yelling, "shoot, shoot!", so she shot the ball, unfortunately she was still out of bounds. Deb didn't get the basket anyways. Our freshman year also introduced many of us to the high school party life.

In our sophomore year not too much happened except that ALFRED BOLZANI amazed us with his incredible tennis skills, JUDY BURNETT and CHARLENE ST. CHARLES both became newcomers to our school system, and KERRY CANNON became a free woman to party without her big brother Ted next to her side. Also many of us were extremely jealous of LYDIA JOYCE who was the 1st to get her license.

The junior year brought out the best of JOHN HOURIGAN with his pinching crusades! Who will forget when ROB PROVOST became a male fashion model? One day he came to school wearing a very chic pair of Cheryl Tiegs jeans, they were his mother's jeans but unfortunately he didn't know it at the time. Then, in Miss Barry's French IV accelerated class, Joanne, Diane, Maura, Eileen and Denise were so filled with the Christmas spirit that they gave Miss O'donnell's study hall an early present. A string of cranberries and popcorn was lowered from the lab window. Yells of "It's a bird, it's a bird" could be heard from the study hall. To this very day Joanne is still saying, "It wasn't my idea . . ." Mr. Dooling is a great teacher, but his junior history class was in for a big surprise when he got a bloody nose. Instead of leaving the room to remedy the problem he stuck a tissue up his nose and continued to teach class. How gross!!! Also in the 11th grade Mr. Vigue pleaded with STACEY GRIFFIN and JENN WOODARD to come to track practice but never succeeded because they thought they were too good for practice. They definitely proved their point as the year went on. DAVID MARIANO, KEVIN SMITH and BILL KERIVAN used to be such pains. They used to block poor Eileen's locker so she wouldn't be able to get her books, what a predicament!! Then there was our junior talent show starring MATT GILLIS and SAMANTHA CLAIR as our outstanding M.C.'s. Sam continued into the next year with her speaking abilities so that we were all permitted to hear "the mouth" every morning. "Please stand for 30 seconds of silent meditation." Also during the talent show, we got to see MARY STEVENSON display her own version of flashdancing. Then there was the junior prom which was a complete success. JIMMY GILMARTIN and CHERYL PAYNE were crowned king and queen of the prom. After an evening of dancing and fun we all proceeded to the cape. Boy what a bash, I bet everyone remembers that day.

The 12th grade, our senior year, and our final year left us short a few band members. People like KARIN MCCANDLESS, DEBBIE SULLIVAN, JOE NOBREGA, and NORANN NOON were the smart ones to get out before "T" went to the extreme. A highlight of this year was The Clumsy Custard Horror Show, our senior play. DAVID DEMARZO, BILL MANCINI, SCOTT BELYEA, GREG PICKLESIMER, MATT GILLIS and STEVE

SMITH were really showing it all with their short tunics. Nice legs guys. Other different performances were given by KELLY BEYER, LISA BURKE, and BETH WHITE as the horrible and terrifying Clumsy Custard. KAREN DIGGINS and JULIE RUBINO sure had alot of trouble with props in the senior play, especially a certain table and tree. One event in our senior year will never be forgotten. It happened on Halloween and STEVE RAWDING and others will never forget their eveing in an enclosed room. But this subject must not be discussed any longer. Also, in our senior year, JEFF JOHNSTON impressed us all by being a key factor in the vocal jazz with his superior performances. MICHELLE GOLDBERG glanced over many schools in the past year or so but finally decided that Millis was the only place to be. SCOTT FLAHERTY didn't have too much time for the class of "84" because he was too busy chasing around one certain junior girl. BOB ALGER formed a group called Bob, Chip and friends. The purpose of this group was to serenade Mr. Valois with old Rolling Stone's tunes in the back of the accounting class. We also remember STORKA's SS Minow. MICHAEL COUSINS and SKIP KELLY became known for their two incredible bomber trucks. SUE MAEL and JOANNE DAESEN kept their kind personality over all the years we have known them. RUTH HAGEARTY, MICHELE DOUGANS, CHERYL PAYNE, MARY STEVENSON, and DONNA DIEZTAL thought that they were so smart that they graduated 1/2 year. MARYLOU DYWER and MIKE CALLAHAN definitely made the cutest and sweetest couple through our high school years. JENN WOODARD, KERRY SMITH, and HEIDI SMITH became known for their chewing. And Kerry came to the school with extremely long hair, then it went from here to here to here and finally here. Where is it going next Kerry? The notorious MIKE ROWEAN became known for his famous "Skip party". And two exchange students came to our town this year. One was Jorge Lanza and another was a girl named BERIT SKOGEN. She impressed us all with her incredible sweater knitting skills. Then came one of the biggest and most controversial events of the year . . . THE FLORIDA TRIP!!!! 32 of us went under the guidance of Denise Brown and George Pappadapilis or was the Pappalipili? We had an extremely awe-some time. Ask NANCY D'ERAMO about the 1st night. It just happened to be Nancy's birthday and according to her it was the best birthday ever. In Florida we had total freedom to do anything we wanted to. MICHELLE FRESH, COLLEEN SCULLY and JOANNE STARK really took full advantage of the freedom and enjoyed themselves. The Florida trip sure put a big smile on KATHY WILKENS' face one night when she was sleeping. Emily and Samantha will always remember GJ and RA. And Lisa, how's Smit-ty???? We all came home with sunburns (ask Wally about his), headaches, souvenirs and lots of memories. PAT TRAVERS will always remember when Mrs. Russ' advanced English class told him the real story of the Japanese Quince. The rain put a damper on the class trip, but some of us managed to find a little sunshine of our own. KIM FREESE and KELLY RILEY came home with many ribbons and TOM HOWARD and Bells successfully maneuvered their canoe without even tipping it over. Even JOE ARNOLD and MATT BERGEN showed up for the rainy trip. JANE LACROIX and ELLEN ROSKEY were singing anything imaginable on the bus until they were drowned out by ERIN FAY and JANICE VOLPA who turned the Billy Idol up. At our senior banquet, AUDRA DEVENS showed up ready to boogey, TERRY MACDONALD came dressed up extremely nice with Lisa by his side, LAURA POWER came with MIKE TRAVERS, RANDY RYDER came with his girlfriend named Candy, BARBARA SOMERS showed up with a gorgeous dude, KIM WHITE came to the trip and banquet with pneumonia, and STEVE ROBINSON just came. Also at the banquet we saw the exotic side of DENISE BOUCHER who couldn't resist flashing her stuff on a table top. (The Lady in Red!!). Oh my goodness, look at the time, we could go on forever with all the millions of things our class has done in the past, but time definitely doesn't permit.

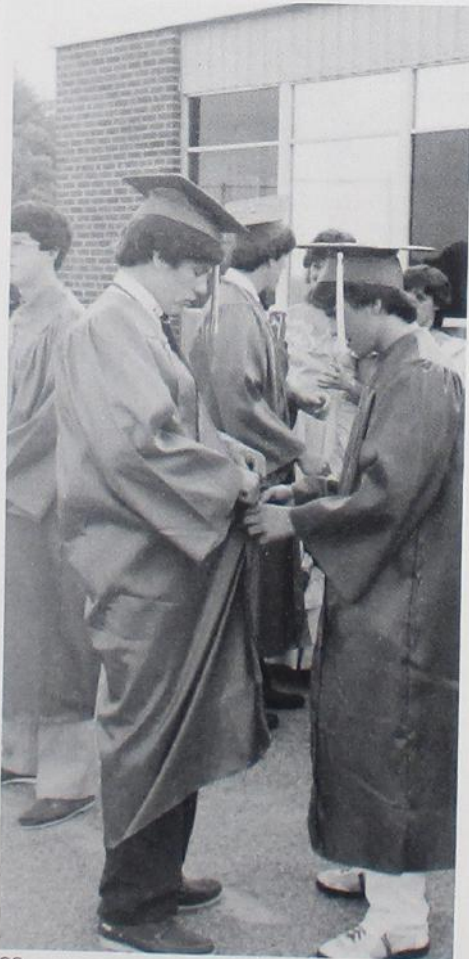

A few places and people, however, which will always linger on in our memories are: The sunroom, the back parkinglot, Van's, Rowie's, Denise's cast party, the swallows, Ms. McKay, Bruno, Pentacle, and the Cape.

The year is now 1984 and we have come to end of our Millis High School years. Ronald Reagan is the president and the Middle East and Central America are the international concerns. Michael Jackson, Billy Idol, the Crue, and Boy George are the musical rages. And breakdancing is the in thing. Mr. Vellente is the Superintendent and Edna Neville is Chairperson of the School Committee. But it is the graduation of the class of 1984 which is the most outstanding event of this year.

We, Eileen and I, hope that all that was said in this class history is taken in the good humor that it was intended to be.

Thank you and good luck to everyone in the class of "84".

CLASS PROPHECY

- Michelle — (Intro) — Let's speed up the years, take an average day of two women, Stacey and Jane. Imagine this, the year is 2004, the place is Id, a city on the east side of the moon. Stacey and Jane are trying to decide how they will manage to attend the several events happening in the next few bleems.
- Stacey — Hi Jane, this is Stacey. Did you just get an invitation to the Inaugural Ball?
- Jane — Ya, I can't wait, who do you think is going to win the election?
- Stacey — I don't know, it's gonna be close.
- Jane — Oh I almost forgot, did you get free tickets to the Olympic Games?
- Stacey — Ya I did, but did you notice that they are being held on the same day as the ball and Rowie's party?
- Jane — Well, we will just have to go to them all. I'll pick you up in my lunar module at 6:00 p.m.
- Stacey — Okay, see you later.
- Later that day, Jane and Stacey meet Michelle.
- Stacey — The Inaugural ball is first on the list.
- Jane — I can't believe that EILEEN MURPHY beat MIKE TRAVERS in the primaries.
- Michele — Jane! Stacey! I haven't seen you in so long. What are you doing here?
- Jane — Well, Stacey called me and asked if I was going and we decided to go together.
- Michelle — I just got off work here so, mind if I stick with you guys?
- Stacey — No, we don't mind.
- Jane — Oh look, there's RON MCKENNEY and KEVIN HENDERSON the famous authors of 101 Ways to Get Suspended.
- Michelle — I saw REBECCA MUSHNICK chairman of the president's Safe Driving Committee.
- Stacey — Check out the body guards MIKE COYLE, RANDY RYDER, STEVEN RAWDING, and JOE ARNOLD protecting MICHAEL CALLAHAN that famous dealer.
- Jane — What does he deal in?
- Stacey — Used cars of course.
- Michelle — Did he and MARYLOU DWYER ever get married?
- Jane — Yeah, about 5 years ago.
- Stacey — Remember that old T.V. show, 'Solid Gold', well I heard they're trying to bring it back, the first new show was on last week.
- Michelle — I saw that, with the new Solid Gold Dancers, MARY STEVENSON, JEN WOODARD, DENISE BOUCHER, DEBBIE SULLIVAN, and CINDI STATLER, and the new hosts the Picklesimer twins, Steph and Greg.
- Jane — There goes the owners of a whole chain of Shell Gas Stations, STORKA, COUS, and LANCE.
- Stacey — How do you like the security around this place, CHRIS SOUZA and JUDY BURNETT, they both graduated from the Police Academy, but Judy still doesn't possess her CPR card.
- Michelle — Hey you guys, check this out, it's NANCY D'ERAMO the world-renowned beautician accompanying the most well known actor in movies today, SCOTT BELYEA.
- Stacey — I knew he had talent way back in the senior play.
- Jane — There are other famous people here too, DAVID MARIANO, S.O.H.C.A.H.T.O.A. warrior, and his "right-hand man", JEFF JOHNSTON.
- Michelle — Who would ever believe that this is what they turned out to be.
- Stacey — Ya no kidding.
- Jane — Seems like just last week we were sitting in math class.
- Michelle — This champagne is great, where did it come from?
- Stacey — It came either from MALOUF and STEEVES' Warehouse Liquors or KEANEY and JOYCE'S Wholesale Liquors or ROSKEY and MAEL's Discount Liquors, because between all 6 of them, they own all the liquor stores on earth and the moon.
- Jane — JULIE SINATRA is over there, I can't believe she's the top model for Vogue.
- Michelle — Well did you see BILL "BoomBoom" MANCINI in G.Q. last month? What a babe.
- Stacey — Here comes the couple who own the two most popular magazines, Playboy and Playgirl, it's DAVID DEMARZO and SAMANTHA CLAIR.
- Jane — Do you remember BERIT SKOGEN?
- Michelle — Of course I do. As a matter of fact she and Mrs. Baima went into business together manufacturing Norwegian Sweaters.
- Stacey — I think we should try and go to the Olympics later on.
- Jane — Ya, I want to see JANICE VOLPICELLI, ERIN FAY, KERRY SMITH, KERRY CANNON, and NORANN NOON on the field hockey team.
- Michelle — KARIN MCCANDLESS, MICHELE DOUGANS, HEIDI SMITH, and DEBBIE MCCOLL are all on the volleyball team and are nonstop even though they are 1 win and 27 losses.
- Stacey — Did you hear about LISA BURKE, KELLY BEYER, EMILY MCCANN, and BETH WHITE, the Olympic team's cheerleaders for Id were kidnapped by the earth athletes BOB ALGER, MATT BERGEN, AL BOLZANI, ALEX KUBACKI, and BILL KERIVAN.
- Jane — Ya, that's awful. SCOTT FLAHERTY is competing against SKIP KELLEY in the jet races, with a pit crew of MIKE COUSENS, STEVEN ROBINSON, GLEN IVORY, MIKE BENNETT, KEVIN SMITH, and TERRY MACDONALD.
- Michelle — Speaking about Terry Macdonald did you know his twin sister TERESA and her cousin SELENE GOES are now the biggest gossip columnists on the moon. They were the ones who discovered Boy George is really a girl and not a boy dressed as a girl.
- Stacey — Wow, I didn't know that was them who did that, I thought it was CHARLENE ST. CHARLES and MICHELLE FRESH who were his oops I mean her fashion consultants.
- Jane — Say, is anyone going to Rowie's "Skip-Day" Reunion party? I hear Mr. Brunelle is the guest of honor, he still hasn't forgiven MIKE for not inviting him on the first one.

Michelle — I heard JOHN HOURIGAN and MIKE ROWEAN are supposed to be incognito tonight because they are Universal Narcotics Agents.

Stacey — Well, I hear JIM GILMARTIN, ERIC HAGEN, PAT TRAVERS, STEVEN SMITH, and MATTY GILLIS are the new FAMOUS FIVE.

Jane — They are appearing tonight later on.

Michelle — Wow, I heard they were the best "break dancers" in all worlds. Or as Eric says, "We are ALLWORLD."

Stacey — I heard the Weebles cartoon creators will be there. You know MIKE VANTHIEL and ERIN RIELLY.

Jane — Is that Weebles as in "they wobble but they don't fall down?"

Michelle — It sure is, hey wait a minute who is going to play if the Famous Five are dancing?

Stacey — Oh I thought you knew. It's "Wally's Winners" with Wally on drums, BRUCE WORKS on bass, ROB PROVOST, on keyboards, JOEY NOBREGA, lead vocals, AUDRA DEVENS, RUTH HAGEARTY, and KIM WHITE as back up vocals, while KATHY VANROEKEL is their majorette.

Jane — Shell, did you know that JULIE RUBINO is the illustrator for KAREN DIGGINS' many childrens' books.

Michelle — No wow! After this is over let's go down to Bennigans and tell the new owner CHERYL PAYNE and bouncer TOM HOWARD what they've missed.

Stacey — Okay, and maybe we'll see KELLY RILEY and KATHY WILKENS, the interior decorators of Cheryl's chain of restaurants.

Jane — This ice cream is great did it come from one of COLLEEN and BARBARA's FRIENDLY ice cream stores?

Stacey — Ya it did and JOANNE and KIM delivered it in their very own Porche-Carverra, 18 wheeler that they designed.

Michelle — Shh, quiet Grippa, the first lady of the moon, LAURA POWER-TRAVERS is about to make her speech!!!

Introducing!

A new dimension in banking.

*We're always accessible,
24 hours a day,
every day of the year.*

Banking hours are now around the clock.

We've hired a 24 hour teller!

Medway's new automated teller helps you do your banking quickly and easily, any time of the day or night. Whenever you have banking to do, we're at your service.

The 24-hour teller can handle deposits, withdrawals, payments, and other banking transactions quickly and easily.

Our automated teller is easy to operate and fun to use. Just insert your banking card — the rest is simple. Clear and precise directions appear on the viewing screen to lead you through any number of transactions. You can cancel the transaction at any time and retrieve your card.

So why not try "Banking the New Medway". It's a sure way to simplify your hectic schedule. Once you try it you'll wonder how you ever got along without the convenience of 24-hour banking.
